The Commission, in a report which will be submitted to the League of Nations Council, states unanimously: "The White Paper policy does not accord with the interpretation which the Commission, in agreement with the Mandatory Power and the League Council, has always placed upon the Palestine man-

The Commission is not, however, in agreement as to whether the mandate might not perhaps be open to a new interpretation which, while still maintaining its main principles, would be sufficiently flexible for the White Paper policy not to appear at Four members felt unable to state that the policy conformed with the mandate and considered—that any contrary conclusion was ruled out by the very terms of the mandate and by the fundamental intentions of its. nuthers. The other three consider that existing circumstances justified the White Paper policy if the Council did not oppose it.

British Reply

The British Government, in a memorandum on August 5 to M. Avenoi, Secretary General of the League of Nations, commenting on the observations of the Permanent Mandates Commission, notes that four places on the Commission eleven were unoccupied "for some reason or other."

The memorandum points out that sion's observations were impelled to disregard the political background which was freely discussed during the proceedings. The Mandatory Power could not ignore this background and the Council must similarly have a regard for it.

The Government replies to the principal arguments advanced that the new policy conflicts with the mandate. These arguments concern the decision to make Jewish immigration after five years dependent on Arab acquiescence, the prohibition and regulation of land transfers, and the question of the future Constitution-which the four Members of the Commission think may involve the political subordination of the Jewish remains one of the closest col-BERLIN, Aug. 17 (Trans- National Home to the Arab majority. laboration with Britain. London Thrilling Air Manoeuvres

LONDON, Aug. 17 (Reuter). — LONDONERS were given a thrilling spectacle as French aircraft "invaded" the Metropolis in brilliant sunshine for an hour to-day.

The Air Ministry subsequently received word from the French authorities that all aircraft had returned safely to France.

The first "air-raid" on London since the World War took the majority of the Capital's millions basking in the sunshine or working in shirt sieeves in their offices, by

Thousands Watch "Raid"

Thousands of faces in the streets turned to the sky with eager interest as the bombers, having made their rendezvous with reconnaissance aircraft, roared over the city in successive waves. Windows were crowded and from the roof-tops, many people had a fine grand-stand view of the invading armada.

The first bombers were at a great height but others which followed were less than 1,000 feet up. As they passed, a single balloon barrage hovered over North London, the majority of barrages evidently having been lowered to minimise the risk of

At 2.30 p.m., 17 sinister-looking heavy bombers—their square wing tips contrasting with the pointed wings of the British fighters—passed close by St. Paul's Cathedral so low that the identification marks on the fuselage could clearly be seen.

Exciting "Battle" Some bombers carried out a daring mock raid on the Royal Air Force Station at Hornchurch, Essex, from a height of 5.000 feet. Within a few minutes of their appearance-which other is missing and a third followed the depature of six fighters from the Station on patrol duty-3-Spitfire fighters had left the ground. An exciting battle ensued in which the 8-gun Spitfires—the fastest of their type in the world-darted in and out of the bomber formations. Official circles in Bucharest take a The bombers all crossed the coast at points between Newhaven and Selsey Bill about noon and many of them as they split up, went off on raids over provincial towns and cities. Interception of the attackers was achieved despite a thick Channel haze rising to 5,000 feet which screened the bombers at a low altitude on their arrival.

Shortly before 3 p.m., some of the invaders again circled London before speeding homewards at the end of the "invasion."

200 Planes Take Part PARIS, Aug. 17 (UP).-The Air Ministry has announced that 200 French bombing planes flew over Britain in the first mass practice flight over British territory.

The 200 planes crossed over to Britain during the night and carried out mock raids on London, Liverpool, Birmingham, Manchester and Bristol, SUTTON HOO, SUFFOLK.

THE full story of what is now shown to be the greatest archaeological discovery of recent times is revealed in a typewritten statement from the peaceful Suffolk town of Woodbridge.

It describes in detail the treasures—objects of gold and silver, many studded with diamonds and other precious stones—found in the 1,400-years-old royal "funeral-ship" buried on a hilltop at Sutton Hoo, near Woodbridge.

The statement is drawn up by Mr. C. W. Phillips, a Fellow of Selwyn College, Cambridge, who has been superintending the excavations for the Office of Works.

Woman Lawmaker Has Secret Bill

MISS FLORENCE HORSBRUGH, humorous-Conservative M.P. for Dundee, admitted recently that she is busy working on a Bill, the subject of which she refuses to reveal.

She talked of this after the afternoon session of the Social Hygiene Congress in London at which she presided, and she did not deny the suggestion that her Bill would, if it became law, benefit working-class mothers and children.

Miss Horsbrugh, who has been eight years in Parliament, already has two Bills to her credit.

The first, passed in 1937, controls the sale of methylated spirit and so reduces cases of alcoholic poisoning. The second—the Adoption of Children (Regulation) Bill-she expects . "at any moment" to receive the Rdyal Assent.

She lives in a roomy upartment in Warwick-square, S.W., and has made herself an expert on mother and child problems in working-class homes.

NEVER HECKLED

She is never beckled in the House. She knows her subject, and members enjoy listening to her. That is why she wants secreey in preparing this Bill. She wants to be sure of her facts before she starts talking.

Of her second Bill, she said "I am entirely satisfied with it. It embraces everything I wanted. Of course, it may not work. We shall have to waft and see."

RITISH naval authorities feel that, with apparatus now in their possession, they can hunt submarines said three months ago, when her Bill worded controversy about the German and make certain of finding them.

Earl Stanhope, First Lord of the Admiralty, made this statement in the House of Lordsrecently when he replied to a resolution, moved by Lord Mottistone, advocating the abolition of submarines.

Earl Stanhope said the naval authorities' view, that we could make certain of finding submarines, was shared by other nations. "I do not think they have got this apparatus or anything like it," he said.

"When this country declared that if the submarine attacks in the Mediterranean continued we should be justified in sinking any submarines in that area, the submarine attacks premptly stopped."

"That was a recognition that this country could deal with physicians do not attempt, to deal with it by suspending treatment. Question Of Giving Back

The "Boersen Zeitung" writes that between Germany and Poland it is not a question of giving and taking, but of giving back to Germany.
Germany's helplessness after the World War was exploited by Poland who gained more than any country on the continent and ought to be made to return some of her spoils. After referring to the economic setback suffered by Germany in the loss of Upper Silesia to Poland, and rejecting the Polish assertion that the Corridor is Polish, the newspaper states: "Any country which like Poland forcibly included at least 8,000,-000 Ukrainians within her borders and just recently took a large slice of Czecho-Slovakja, need not accuse us of violating the nationality principle or the principle of self-determination of the people."

Tribute to Goebbels

THERE is a good deal of discussion at the moment about propaganda. Our Government is thinking about running its own propaganda factory, and, true to official tradition in this "land of such dear souls," appointing distinguished gentlemen to run it whose only conspicuous qualification is that they know next to nothing about the business.

Perhaps our devoted Ministers think their propaganda chiefs could easily and quickly pick up all they need to know about their job from studying the inimitable Dr. Goebbels. If that truly is their idea, it is anything but a bright one. It is said that in any encounter in which the French Army is engaged, the presence of a battalion of the Foreign Legion is worth two brigades. My estimate of Dr. Goebbels' propaganda work is that he is worth at least in army corps to his opponents. If anyone is thinking of handing out a prize for thoroughly high-class recruiting work for our national defence services, it would be sheer prejudice to overlook the signal claims of Hitler's Minister of Propaganda and Public Information. "Doc" Goebbels, if one may borrow the bright imagery of select American poker circles, fairly scoops the pool every time. Lord Kitchener was good in 1914. But I am inclined to rank Dr. Goebbels just a few marks higher in 1939.

Every time the "Doc" lets himself go, and pumps up some more of his native super-heated venom, I reckon it is worth guids to the Democratic Front. How well Cleopatra's invocation to IN the worm fits this mountebank: Parliament passed the Coal "Poor venomous fool! Be angry,

American Warning To Japan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16 (UP),-Senator William King to-day warned that Japan's adherence to the Axis military alliance would "allenate all possible sympathy that considerable sections of American opinion might have."

He said it is necessary to recognise that it is inevitable for Japan to co-operate with the Axis, but added that a definite military commitment would present a "new situation."

REAL CRICKET TALENT WASTED, SAYS TATE

Coming Youngsters Not Taken In Hand Early By Competent Teachers

Maurice Tate, the former England and Sussex bowler, who is now appearing in League cricket, has a word or two to say on the matter of spotting young talent and in an article in Reynolds News suggests that cricket might do well to imitate the F.A. in giving the summer sport a little more publicity.

Fragrance

NEARLY every woman likes to wear a touch of perfume, perhaps especially during the summer months when everything is sunny and fragrant. There are such wide ranges from which to choose, that it is difficult to decide which perfume is going to suit each individual perconality.

Flower perfumes are always fresh and cool for summer days and evenings, and they suit most personalities. It is rather a mistake to use a heavy, exotic perfume during hot weather; cool fresh flower scents are more re-freshing. Some women like always to use the same perfume, but it is rather a change to vary the differentscents occasionally.

It is essential to look cool during hot weather .. as it automatically makes everyone less hot. An example of this was Dinna Wynyard at the Richmond Dog Show, who judged the children's class. She was wearing an intriguing light silk outfit with lingerle touches. Her perfume was fresh and clusive. People declared that it made them feel cool just to look at her!

Naturally, not all flower scents can sult everybody. Even such apparently simple perfumes must be chosen with discrimination, especially by the older woman. Young girls must be careful that they do not wear a perfume that is too heavy and sophisticated for their looks and manners. ·

Cooking Secrets

TATHEN stewing meat, add a dessert-YY spoonful of small sago, and the gravy will be deliciously thick.

If a little sugar and a little chopped mint is added when boiling cabbage, the flavour is much improved.

When making a white soup, whether from veni or chicken stock, add a lump of sugar just before serving. This simple addition imparts a very piquant flavour.

Try brushing chops over with lemon juice before cooking. They will be more tender if this is done.

If the juice of half a lemon added to the contents of a tin pineapple, the fruit will be very much improved. To get the full value of the flavour, it should be allowed to stand in the dish for about half an hour before using.

if some chopped preserved ginger edded along with a little grated a half ounces of cornflour, and a few lemon or orange rind.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN PICTURES PHOTONEWS FROM FAR AND NEAR

HAPPENINGS THE CAMERA'S EYE.

TWO TEAMS of women from Kent and Sussex played in a stoolball match at Tunbridge Wells. The game is of ancient origin, although very little is known of how it began. The modern game has made progress in recent years and several thousand clubs are members of the Stoolball Association, which was founded at Lord's in 1924.

MR. R. R. GRANTHAM, who revived stoolball during the war as a game for wounded soldlers, was one of the umpires. He counted balls bowled by moving umbrella rings along the notched "totem" stick he is holding in this picture.

THE KENT CAPTAIN, MISS B. Field-Marsham, of Fordcombe, hits out. The board behind her is the wicket." The bateman is put "out" when the ball strikes the square at the top of the post. The bat used in stoolball is similar to that in table tennis.

Forced Labour Imposed

Chinese coming from Shumchun into British territory told varied stories of what was happening in the Chinese city since its occupation by the Japanese.

According to one man Japanese money was already being circulated there. Others told of how they had been rounded up for forced labour, carrying stores and ammunition for the Japanese.

One wealthy merchant complained that he was robbed, the Japanese leaving him only one dollar with which to come into British territory, He said he was driven from a

Another refugee came across the border with the story that most of the Japanese troops were spending the day busily cleaning their rifles and equipment, and one of the soldiers had informed him that they expected to move off in three days time for action elsewhere.

Lowu Restrictions

Apparently only at Lowu have restrictions been imposed upon pedestrian traffic across the border. Both the British and Japanese authorities have imposed a ban, and there is no movement' from one side to the other. On the British side of the frontier barriendes of barbed wire have been erected, while the Japanese have piled up banks of sandbags, which practically hides them from observa-

There was nothing warlike about the attitude of the Japanese soldiers at this post. A great many of them folied about in a partially dressed state, and others were seen indulging in such domestic tasks as washing their clothes.

The sentries offered a striking contrast to the British soldiers, who stood stiffly to attention, and carried out their gunrd duties as if they were on the barrack square.

Three Casualties

The Japanese claim that Shumchun was taken without suffering any casualties was definitely refuted by a Customs officer, who declared that he personally saw three Japanese soldiers carried into Shumchun on Wednesday night suffering from bomb wounds. One of the men had lost both arms, and a second had a bad wound in his side.

The bomb was apparently dropped from a Japanese machine, as only one bomb fell in that particular area during the operations.

CHINA'S CURRENCY WORRIES

Apprehension In United States

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

WASHINGTON, August 17 (UP).—UNITED States Government financial quarters are expressing deep concern regarding Chinese currency but said they do not know of any contemplated action in this connection by the United States at present.

They expressed the opinion that the only possible effective action the United States could take would be to directly participate in the British fund for stabilising the Chinese cur-

However, they know of no British "soundings" either here or in Paris to obtain United States or French participation.

Silver Purchases Useless They said they do not believe the United States could be of any assistance to China through purchases of additional silver because China has apparently disposed of most of her available supply. Expert opinion here is that if the situation worsens the Japanese may attempt to establish a strict exchange control in Shanghai and attempt to impose only their own currency there exclusively, that the Japanese currency in China is about as weak as the Chinese.

DESCRIPTION OF CONDITIONS IN SHUMCHUN

THE HONGKONG Border Police this morning confirmed that the Japanese had successfully extended their operations along the border as far as Shataukok. The manoeuvre was carried out yesterday and completed about half. past nine last night.

According to a report received at Taipo, some three or four hundred Japanese entered Chinese territory close to Shataukok last night. There was no fighting, and according to Shataukok reports, no influx of Chinese has yet taken place.

A "Domei" report avers that Japanese field officers announced occupation of the border territory up to Shataukak on Wednesday evening, and that the entire frontier came under Japanese control two days ago; out this claim is not substantiated by observers on the British side of the horder.

JAPANESE DRIVE IN S. CHINA EXPECTED

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

LATEST Chinese reports received in Kweilin and Shiukwan, the two military and political centres in Kwangtung respectively, indicate that the Japanese are again seeking a major objective in south China.

According to Kweilin reports emanating from official sources, the entire Japanese South China squadron, and parts of the Central China and Formosa squadrons are concentrating off the coast of Pakhoi in the southwest corner of Kwangtung. It is likely that the long-heralded Japanese attack on Pakhoi is Rushing Reinforcements.

From Shiukwan come the reports that heavy Japanese reinforcements are rushing to Tungkun and Sheklung. It is estimated that at least a complete division was transported from Formosa to Canton during the past three days.

Shlukwan observers believe there possibilities garding the impending Japanese move; an intensified "mopping up" operation against growing Chineses guerillas in the outskirts of Canton and the Kowloon-Canton railway icun; an attempt-to recapture Walchow on the East River; or a thrust on the Chinese positions north of Tsungfa along the Canton-Hankow

Meanwhile, Chinese reinforcements from Kwangsi ure pouring into Kwangtung as a counter-measure against the Japanese movement.

SUTTON HOO, SUFFOLK. THE full story of what is now shown to be the greatest archaeological discovery of recent times is revealed in a typewritten statement from the peaceful Suffolk town of Woodbridge. It describes in detail the treasures-objects of gold and silver, many studded with diamonds and other precious stones-found in the 1,400-years-old royal "funeral-ship" buried on a hilltop at Sutton Hoo, near Woodbridge.

HIS ARMOUR

The statement is drawn up by Mr. C. W. Phillips, a Fellow of Selwyn College, Cambridge, who has been superintending the excavations for the Office of Works.

Woman Lawmaker Has Secret Bill

MISS FLORENCE HORSBRUGH, humorous-Conservative M.P. for Dundee, admitted recently that she is busy working on a Bill, the. subject of which she refuses to reveal.

She talked of this after the afternoon session of the Social Hygiene Congress in London at which she presided, and she did not deny the suggestion that her Bill would, if it became law, benefit working-class mothers and children.

Miss Horsbrugh, who has been eight 'years in Parliament, already has two Bills to her credit.

The first, passed in 1937, controls the sale of methylated spirit and so reduces cases of alcoholic polsoning. The second—the Adoption of Children (Regulation) Bill-she expects "at any moment" to receive the Royal Assent.

She lives in a roomy apartment in Warwick-square, S.W., and has made berself an expert on mother and child problems in working-class homes.

NEVER HECKLED

She is never heckled in the House. She knows her subject, and members enjoy listening to her. That is why she wants secreey in preparing this Bill. She wants to be sure of her facts before she starts talking.

Of her second Bill, she said "I am entirely satisfied with it. It embraces everything I wanted. Of course, it may not work. We shall have to wait and see."

Always cautious, Miss Horsbrugh said three months ago, when her Bill was safely through the Commons and due for the Lords, "Don't let's talk too much about it, you never know what may happen there."

When prominent men in social using strictly technical arguments. hygiene and medicine praised her work, she said naively, "Thank you, I love being praised. It is such a change from all the criticism one

Britain Has Secret War Apparatus

RITISH naval authorities feel that, with apparatus now in their possession, they can hunt submarines and make certain of finding them.

Earl Stanhope, First Lord of the Admiralty, made this statement in the House of Lordsrecently when he replied to a resolution, moved by Lord Mottistone, advocating the abolition of submarines.

Earl Stanhope said the naval authorities' view, that we could make certain of finding submarines, was shared by other nations. "I do not think they have got this apparatus or anything like it," he said.

"When this country declared that if the submarine attacks in the Mediterranean continued we should be justified in sinking any submarines in that area, the submarine attacks promptly stopped."

"That was a recognition that this country could deal with that question."

Earl Stanhope said that this Goyernment had failed to achieve even makes it necessary for him to be on a modicum of agreement on the abolition of submarines, and they believed that the use of submarines illegitimately and contrary to all rules of naval warfare, was extraordinarily tempting in the event of

There was nothing warlike about the attitude of the Japanese soldiers at this post. A great many of them lolled about in a partially dressed state, and others were seen indulging in such domestic tasks as washing their clothes.

The sentries offered a striking contrast to the British soldiers, who, stood stiffly to attention, and carried out their guard duties as if they were on the barrack square.

Three Casualties The Japanese claim that Shumehun was taken without suffering any casualties was definitely refuted by A n Customs officer, who declared that J he personally saw three Japanese soldiers carried Into Shumchun on Wednesday night suffering from bomb wounds. One of the men had lost both arms, and a second had a bad wound in his side.

The bomb was apparently dropped 1 from a Japanese machine, as only one bomb fell in that particular area during the operations.

A Tribute to Goebbels

THERE is a good deal of discussion' at the moment about propaganda. Our Government is thinking about running its own · propaganda factory, and, true to official tradition in this "land of such dear souls," appointing distinguished gentlemen to run it whose only conspicuous qualification is that they know next to nothing about the business.

Perhaps our devoted Ministers think their propaganda chiefs could easily and quickly pick up all they need to know about their job from studying the inimitable Dr. Goebbels. If that truly is their idea, it is anything but a bright one. It is said that in any encounter in which the French Army is engaged, the presence of a battalion of the Foreign Legion is worth two brigades. My estimate of Dr. Goebbels' propaganda work is that he is worth at least in army corps to his opponents. If anyone is thinking of handing out a prize for thoroughly high-class recruiting work for our national defence services, it would be sheer prejudice to overlook the signal claims of Hitler's Minister of Propaganand Public Information. 'Doc" Goebbels, if one may borrow the bright imagery of select American poker circles, fairly scoops the pool every time. Lord Kitchener was good in 1914 But I am inclined to rank Dr. Goebbels just a few marks higher in 1939.

Every time the "Doc" lets himself go, and pumps up some more of his native super-heated venom, I reckon it is worth quids to the Democratic Front. How well Cleopatra's invocation to IV the worm fits this mountebank: Parliament passed 'the Coal "Poor venomous fool! Be angry,

B. W. Bradbury's Valiant Fight Against U. M. Omar

No finer game could have been wished for than the third round meeting on the Civil Service C.C. green yesterday between B. W. Bradbury (holder) and U. M. Omar (former champion) in the third round of the Open Bowls singles championship.

Ontar finally won by the narrow margin of 21-19, but even with the last wood of the match the result might have gone the other way. Leading 20-19 and lying one. Omarwould have lost the game if Bradbury had succeeded in either pushing Omar's shot wood through or trailing the jack a few inches. The champion was having three seconds, but he was a trifle too heavy.

It was a fitting ending to what had been a splendid game all through. Twice Bradbury had a chance of winning the match, only to see Omar pull the game out of the fire on each occasion. But he could not complain, for there was no suggestion whatever of anything "fluky" about Omar's

There was no mistaking the direction in which the sympathies of the the case of little Miss Anderson, who, Leading by 20-6, Abbas was lying as the soviour of her side, was the heroine of the match.

With the match all square the last two holes became of vital importance. The second shot at the 17th, being slightly up-hill, demands firm blow with a No. 4 or 5 iron. Miss Barton and Miss Morgan missed the green, and were out of it.

Coming nobly to the rescue, Miss Anderson hit a crisp, firm shot follows the leader, Sam King, who straight at the flag, and got the necessary half in 4. The 18th is a long one-shotter, all uphill, to a narrow green, and for the women a wooden club shot.

Again Miss Barton and Miss Morgan failed to find the green, and once more the Scottish player came gallently to their nid: it was impossi-ble to conceive a finer brassic shot, the ball finishing lift, from the flag. With a number 2 iron Cotton reached the green, but short by the length of a cricket pitch. If the end of it all had its comic side it also had its tragic side-for Cotton. Thrice he addressed the ball, and each time the noisy interruptions of a megaphone and a couple of movie camers compelled a fresh, start: "Three girls are quite enough to play against, but two clicking cameraswell, I ask you," said Cotton.

At last he was allowed to proceed, and he putted about 5ft past the hole. As Miss Anderson was attempting to hole her putt for a 2 and the match the dreadful whirring noises of the cameras started afresh. She missed the putt, but, as it turned out, it did not matter, as Cotton failed by the fraction of an inch to hole his return putt for a 3. He was round approximately in 70, a 6 at the seventh, where four futile shots were taken from just off the green, beginning the downward path. Then a hooked mashie-niblick shot at the 12th and another at the 13th saw the match all square.

Fragrance

NIEARLY every woman likes' to IN wear a touch of perfume, perhaps especially during the summer months when everything is sunny and fragrant, There are such, wide ranges from which to choose, that it is difficult-to decide which persume is going to suit each individual perschallty.

Flower perfumes are always fresh and cool for summer days and evenings, and they sult most personalities.
It is rather a mistake to use a heavy, exotic perfume during hot weather; cool fresh flower scents are more refreshing. Some women like niways to use the same perfume, but it is rather a change to vary the different scents occasionally."

It is essential to look cool during hot, weather as it automatically mukes everyone less hot. An example of this was Diana Wynyard at the Richmond Dog Show, who judged the children's class. She was wearing an intriguing light silk outfit with lingeric touches. Her perfume was fresh and clusive. People declared that it made them feel cool just to look at her!

Naturally, not all flower scents can sult everybody. Even such apparently simple perfumes must be chosen with discrimination, especially by the older woman. Young girls must be careful that they do not wear a perfume that is too heavy and applicationted for their looks and monners.

Cooking Secrets

WITHEN stewing meat, add a dessert-VV spoonful of small sago, and the gravy will be deliciously thick.

If a little sugar and a little chopped mint is added when boiling cabbage, the flavour is much improved. When making a white soup, whether from vent or chicken stock, add a lump of sugar just before serving. This simple addition imparts a very piquant flavour.

Try brushing chops over with lemon juice before cooking. They will be more tender if this is done.

If the juice of half a lemon added to the contents of a tinpineapple, the fruit will be very much improved. To get the full value of the flavour, it should be allowed to stand in the dish for about half an hour before using.

Stewed apples will never be insipld it some ellopped preserved ginger is lemon or orange rind.

In the case of gooseberries which

When making ginger cakes or steamed ginger puddings, use told coffee for mixing. This gives a rich dark appearance, and the flavour is also much improved.

Travel Now Safer

Tsingtao, Aug. 17. Beginning to-day, Japanese authorities have repealed the restrictions on travel by Japanese and Chinese in the Interior of Shantung.

Up to the present, both Japanese and Chinese were requested to obtain permits for travelling to the interior from Tsingtao. With peace and order in the remoter districts having been effectively restored, the restrictions have been abolished so as to accelerate the rehabilitation of the interior.—Domei.

required." Serve with cream if liked. Take the rind and juice of two oranges, three whites of eggs, half an ounce of powdered gelatine, half a pint of boiling water, two to three! ounces of sugar.

Dissolve the gelatine in the boiling water, add the orange juice, sugar, and rind, and stir until boiling point is reached.

Allow to cool. Whip the whites of eggs to a stiff froth, add the cool orange mixture and whisk until the whole is a stiff froth (a small quantity of the fruit pulp may also be whisked into the mixture if liked.) Pile roughly in small glasses and decorate with quarters of orange.

Fruit Surprise

Half a pint of fruit purce (fresh, stewed, or tinned fruit rubbed through a sieve), four small sponge cakes, two or three tablespoonfuls of white wine, sherry, or fruit juice, half a pint of custard (either custard powder or egg custard-sauce consistency.) Mix the fruit purce and cake crumbs together and moisten with the wine or truit juice. Place in a glass fireproof dish and pour the made custard over it and allow to cool.

Whisk the white of egg to a stlff froth, pile it roughly on top of the custard and sift with caster sugar. Place in a cool oven until the meringue is set. Decorate with glace cherries and angelica and serve cold. Grape jelly is pleasing to the taste. Take one pint packet of lemon jelly, one pint of boiling water, green or black grapes, whipped cream, blanched almonds.

Make the jelly and set aside to cool. Wash the grapes, cut them in that is a long and tiresome job!) When the jelly shows signs of setting, stir in the prepared grapes then leave until quite set. To serve, break up the jelly with a pointed basque bodice trimined with fork, and pile it lightly in sundae white ruffling.

TWO TEAMS of women from Kent and Sussex played in a stoolball match at Tunbridge Wells. The game is of ancient origin, although very little is known of how it began. The modern game has made progress in recent years and several thousand clubs are members of the Stoolball Association, which was founded at Lord's in 1924.

MR. R. R. GRANTHAM, who revived stoolball during the war as a game for wounded soldlers, was one of the umpires. He counted balls bowled by moving umbrella rings along the notched "totem" stick he is holding in this picture.

THE KENT CAPTAIN, Miss B. Field-Marsham, of Fordcombe, hits out," The board behind her is the wicket. The bataman is put "out" when the ball strikes the square at the top of the post. The bat used in stoolball is similar to that in table tennis.

Alarming Reports Of Increased German-Polish Tension

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

BERLIN, AUG. 18, (UP).—INFORMED NAZI CIRCLES HERE HAVE ASSERTED THAT GERMANY IS NOW NOT SATISFIED WITH THE RETURN OF DANZIG TO THE REICH. THEY SAID NEW TERMS NOW INCLUDE THE RESTORATION OF THE POLISH CORRIDOR TO THE REICH.

Also they asserted that a week or ten days ago Hitler would have accepted the cessation of Danzig alone, but that he now insists on the Corridor also.

It has been learned that the British Ambassador called at the German Foreign Office on Monday and the French Ambassador made a similar call on Tuesday and that they both expressed in "positive" terms the British and French viewpoints regarding Danzig.

WANTS DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS

NEW YORK, Aug. 17, (Domei).—THE Berlin Bureau of the Associated Press, collating information in German Government circles and reports appearing in German newspapers, declares that Germany will no longer be satisfied with the return of Danzig alone but she will demand all her pre-war possessions in western Poland.

According to the report, Germany wishes direct negotiations with Poland, while official circles in Berlin deny the possibility negotiations between the visiting Hun-been much talk - recently that the of another Munich parley in which third Powers will take part.

PREPARING CAMPAIGN

Asserting that the settlement of Danzig alone will in time of war so that Germany will no longer satisfy Germany, the Berlin correspondent of the Associated Press says that Herr Hitler's proposals last spring for the construction of a railway linking East Prussia with Germany proper is no longer identical with Germany's demands at the present moment.

Assault On Canton

Meanwhile other Chinese reports said the "Ironsides General" Chang Fah-kwei, who commanded the Chinese troops at Pootung during the Shanghal hostilities has launched an offensive against Canton after bitterly replying to Wang Ching-wei's pence appeal. It will be recalled that General appointed High Commissioner for Chang Fah-kwel made a broadcast in which he called Wang Ching-wei the "Henlein" of China after Wang Ching-wei had appealed to Chang-Fah-kwel- to surrender. The two were formerly close associates.

ADDRESS TO Y'S MEN

Dr. Shang Lin-fu, Professor of Sociology of the National Sun Yetsen University, described the work being done in Yunnan for the preservation of Chinese culture when he spoke to Hongkong Y's Men, at their weekly tiffin yesterday at St. Francis Hotel on "Universities in the South-West Frontier Territory."

Dr. Shang described Yunnan as "China's Lost Horizon". There in A blanket denial of the Japanese the mountains, amid the grandeur bombings on August 6 on Ichang of the lakes and the primitive which allegedly set fire to British | beauty of the rolling plateaux, six ships, and during which bombs al- thousand feet above the sea, thousands of patriotic young men from ty, was issued by the Japanese Army all parts of China were not only to-day through Mr. Yoshiaki Miura, keeping alive the spark of Chinese the Japanese Consul-General, reply- culture and learning, but were reing to the British notes of August 6 kindling a great spirit of national

> In invading and occupying the great cities of China, said Dr. Shang, Japan had put the Chinese universities to flight-from urban-palace city to rural town, from rural town to the frontier." But the war on Chinese culture was a dismal failure, It gave rise to a mighty westward movement, reminiscent of the California gold rush—a great migration of people of principle and character who refused to serve as puppets.

In addition to the Peiping and Tientsin and the Sun Yat-sen (Canton) Universities, said Dr. Shang, from north; central and east China had moved to Yunnan.

Lack of Books

The conditions under which these institutions were functioning were most arduous, Dr. Shang said. They currence as well as the possibility of had no palatial buildings, they were very short of books, equipment and apparatus. But-the work -- went -- on for all that, for buildings and books did not make a university. Rather was it a gathering of intellectuals who could impart higher knowledge and thinking to those who sought it. In one respect, at least, they were fortunate. In their new surroundings, free from the dust and turmoil of the metropolis, in country where nature's beauty was outspread in its utmost profusion, the students were inspired to nobler thoughts and more lofty

These conditions were helping to develop a combination of urban and rural civilisation, said Dr. Shang. helping to develop what Confucius called "a gentleman culture"-a combination of civility and rusticity. Thus the "frontler" was now China's cultural Zion-the Zion of her renalssance in every aspect of her national life.

Dr. Shang paid tribute to many foreign helpers who were there living the rustic life, deprived of such things as butter, milk and bread and modern conveniences.

The simple, clean life was, however, reacting beneficially in every possible way. Physically, the effect was astounding on the students. Intellectually, they came more into contact with reality. Culturally, there was a clash as well as diffusion and intermingling of cultures.

Dr. Shang concluded by saying that the students were naturally very homesick for their old cities and they knew they would go back there some day; but they knew too that there was no going back until China was free again, until the re-Despite previous reports that birth of China, which they were there will be a session to helping to consummate, had been morrow, it was authoritatively learned accomplished. Britain's Coal

Since last summer, when Parliament passed the Coal Mines Act, the British coal industry has ceased to be the topic of embittered debate.

Quietly and inconspicuously steps are now being taken for applying the law. None too soon. There is no great industry in Britain which has ndustry. Vital as it is to the national prosperity, there has been none which has been so slow to accommodate itself to which there has been so much just necessitated the insertion of entangled with those prosaic The acid remark and the bumpety-bump of the tyro painunrest among the workers or such disastrous strikes.

Tribute to Goebbels

THERE is a good deal of discussion at the moment about propaganda. Our Government is thinking about running its own propaganda factory, and, true to official tradition in this "land of such dear souls," appointing distinguished gentlemen to run it whose only conspicuous qualification is that they know next to nothing about

Perhaps our devoted Ministers think their propaganda chiefs could easily and quickly pick up all they need to know about their job from studying the inimitable Dr. Goebbels. If that truly is their idea, it is anything but a bright one. It is said that in any encounter in which the French Army is engaged, the presence of a battalion of the Foreign Legion is worth two brigades. My estimate of Dr. Goebbels' propaganda work is that he is worth at least an army corps to his opponents.

ing out a prize for thoroughly high-class recruiting work for our national defence services, it would be sheer prejudice to overlook the signal claims of Hitler's Minister of Propaganand Public Information. "Doc" Goebbels, if one may borrow the bright imagery of select American poker circles, fairly scoops the pool every time. Lord Kitchener was good in 1914. But I am inclined to rank Dr. Goebbels just a few marks higher in 1939.

DESCRIPTION CONDITIONS IN SHUMCHUN

THE HONGKONG Border Police this morning confirmed that the Japanese had successfully extended their operations along the border as far as Shataukok. The manoeuvre was carried out yesterday and completed about half past nine last night.

According to a report received at Taipo, some three or four hundred Japanese entered Chinese territory close to Shataukok last night. There was no fighting, and according to Shataukok reports, no influx of Chinese has yet taken place.

A "Domei" report avers that Japanese field officers announced occupation of the border territory up to Shatankok on Wednesday evening, and that the entire frontier came under Japanese control two days ago, but this claim is not substant. but this claim is not substantiated by observers on the British side of the border.

BOWLS CHAMPION DEFEATED IN SPLENDID MATCH

ISSUE OPEN UP TO LAST WOOD OF THE MATCH

B. W. Bradbury's Valiant Fight Against U. M. Omar

No finer game could have been wished for than the third round meeting on the Civil Service C.C. green yesterday between B. W. Bradbury (holder) and U. M. Omar (former champion) in the third round of the Open Bowls singles championship.

Omar finally won by the narrow margin of 21-19, but even with the last wood of the match the result might have gone the other way. Leading 20-19 and lying one. Omar would have lost the game if Bradbury had succeeded in either pushing Omar's shot wood through or trailing the jack a few inches. The champion was having three seconds, but he was a trifle too heavy.

It was a fitting ending to what had been a splendid game all through. Twice Bradbury had a chance of winning the match, only to see Omar pull the game out of the fire on each accasion. HOW THREE WOMEN GOLFERS BEAT HENRY COTTON

London, July 17. Henry Cotton, playing the best ball of three women champions—Miss Pam Barton, Miss Jessie Anderson and Miss Wanda Morgan—was beaten but the younger player was in good by a hole at Maylands, near Romford.

cheered. This was particularly so in the case of little Miss Anderson, who, as the saviour of her side, was the heroine of the match.

With the match all square the last two holes became of vital importance. The second shot at the 17th, being slightly up-hill, demands a firm blow with a No. 4 or 5 iron. Miss Barton and Miss Morgan missed tournament in Great Britain. the green, and were out of it. Coming nobly to the rescue, Mias Anderson hit a crisp, firm shot follows the leader, Sam King, who straight at the flag, and got the necessary half in 4. The 18th is a long one-shotter, all uphill, to a narrow green, and for the women a wooden club shot. Again Miss Barton and Miss Morgan failed to find the green, and once more the Scottish player came gallently to their aid. It was impossible to conceive a finer brassic shot, the ball finishing off, from the fing. With a number 2 fron Cotton reached the green, but short by the length of a cricket pitch. If the end of it all had its comic side it also had its tragic side-for Cotton. Thrice he addressed the ball, and each time the noisy interruptions of a megaphone and a couple of movie camers compelled a fresh start.

"Three girls are quite enough to play against, but two clicking cameraswell, I ask you," said Cotton.

At last he was allowed to proceed, and he putted about 8ft past the hole. As Miss Anderson was attempting to hole her putt for a 2 and the match the dreadful whirring noises of the cameras started afresh. She missed the putt, but, as it turned out, it did not matter, as Cotton falled by the fraction of an inch to hole his return putt for a 3. He was round approximately in 70, a 6 at the seventh, where four futile shots were taken from just off the green, beginning the downward path. Fragrance

Friday,

ATEARLY every woman likes to IN wear a touch of perfume, perhaps especially during the summer months when everything is sunhy and fragrant. There are such wide ranges from which to choose, that it is difficult to decide which perfume is going to suit each individual personality.

Flower perfumes are always fresh and cool for summer days and evenings, and they suit most personalities. It is rather a mistake to use a heavy, exotic perfume during hot weather; cool fresh flower scents are more refreshing. Some women like niways to use the same perfume, but it is rather a change to vary the different scents occasionally.

It is essential to look cool during hot weather as it automatically makes everyone less hot. An example of this was Diana Wynyard at the Richmond Dog Show, who judged the children's class. She was wearing an intriguing light silk outfit with lingerie touches. Her perfume was fresh and clusive. People declared that it made them feel cool Just to look at her!

Naturally, not all flower scents can suit everybody. Even such apparently simple perfumes must be chosen with discrimination, especially by the older woman. Young girls must, be careful that they do not wear a perfume that is too heavy and sophisticated for their looks and is 73-year-old Sussex dialect poet James Richards. Wearing a smock and carrying field glasses, he was one of the spectators at the recent county match Tunbridge Wells. He saw his first game in 1869, and has been akeen follower ever since,

TWO TEAMS of women from Kent and Sussex played in a stoolball match at Tunbridge Wells. The game is of ancient origin, although very little is known of how it began. The modern game has made progress in recent years and several thousand clubs are members of the Stoolball Association, which was founded at Lord's in 1924. HERE is a general view of the game. Wickets are placed at each end of the pitch as in cricket, The bowler throws the balls to the batsman from a crease ten yards from the wicket.

MR. R. R. GRANTHAM, who revived stoolball during the war as a game for wounded soldiers, was one of the umpires. He counted balls bowled by moving umbrella rings along the notched "totem" stick he is holding in this picture.

THE KENT CAPTAIN, Miss B. Field-Marsham, of Fordcombe, hits out. The board behind her is the wicket. The bataman is put "out" when the ball strikes the square at the top of the post. The bat used in stoolball is similar to that in table tennis,
